Kyocera Corporation (the “Company”) hereby announces that at the Board of Directors meeting held today, the Company has adopted resolutions in respect of revision of its consolidated financial forecasts for fiscal 2026, which were previously announced on October 30, 2025, taking into consideration the performance for the nine months ended December 31, 2025 (“the nine months”) and the business environment forecast for the three months ending March 31, 2026 (“the fourth quarter”).

2. Reason for the Revision to Consolidated Financial Forecasts for Fiscal 2026

Financial results for the nine months came in above our expectations due to the continued strong demand for the semiconductor-related businesses as well as the depreciation of the yen. During the fourth quarter, although uncertainties due to geographical risks, etc. are expected to continue, the demand in our principal markets is not expected to change significantly. In addition, a positive impact of approximately 15 billion yen on profits has been recognized as a result of a share transfer of our U.S. subsidiary, Kyocera Industrial Tools, Inc., to TL Sapphire Holdings, Inc., an affiliate of Truelink Capital Management, LLC, on January 22, 2026 (U.S. Eastern Time), which is a part of our business portfolio restructuring, one of the initiatives of the structural business transformation. Therefore, the Company has revised its consolidated financial forecasts for fiscal 2026 as set forth above.
