The corporate governance of Asahi Broadcasting Group Holdings Corporation (the “Company”) is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Profile and Other Key Information

1. Basic Views

1. The Company’s basic views on corporate governance are as follows:

(1) Our Group, as a corporate group centered on broadcasting business, is deeply aware of its public mission and social responsibility. Our Group strictly complies with the Broadcasting Act and other relevant laws and regulations, and contributes to the development of society and culture based on the Group Business Philosophy.

(2) As a news organization entrusted with the effective use of the public’s broadcasting spectrum, our Group’s priority is to maintain a business foundation that enables it to continuously provide information vital to public safety and prosperity through broadcasting and other activities under any circumstances. On this basis, our Group aims for sustainable growth and enhanced corporate value by building good relationships with and meeting the expectations of our diverse stakeholders—shareholders, viewers, listeners, readers, advertisers, business partners, employees, and local communities.

(3) To ensure that our Group’s officers and employees act with high ethical standards and in compliance with laws and regulations, we have established a code of conduct and other necessary internal policies based on the Asahi Broadcasting Group Compliance Charter. We also maintain appropriate management systems, training programs, and whistleblowing systems to ensure full compliance.

(4) We seek to enhance corporate governance across the entire Group by implementing this Policy and maintaining and operating the internal control system.

[Reasons for Non-compliance with the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code]

The Company complies with all General Principles, Principles, and Supplementary Principles of the Corporate Governance Code.

Supplementary Principle 3.1.3

1. Initiatives on sustainability

The Company recognizes that a groupwide approach to the various issues surrounding sustainability is a crucial challenge for sustainable social growth, as well as sustainable growth and mid- to long-term corporate value improvement of the Group. To respond to this challenge, the Company formulated the Asahi Broadcasting Group Sustainability Policy, established the Sustainability Promotion Committee, and has advanced its initiatives across the entire Group. In December 2023, the Company identified and publicly announced the materiality of the ABC Group to clarify the material issues that we should prioritize and to strengthen our sustainability strategy. Furthermore, we publish a Sustainability Report* every year, which outlines our specific sustainability initiatives. The details of identified materiality, processes of identification, the framework of the Sustainability Promotion Committee, policies for the promotion, and the Sustainability Report* are disclosed respectively on the Company's website.

For our Sustainability, please refer to the Company's website.

<https://corp.asahi.co.jp/en/sustainability/>

For our Materiality, please refer to page 33 of the Integrated Report 2025, “Materiality and Identification Process”.

For our Sustainability Report*, please refer to the Company's website.

<https://corp.asahi.co.jp/ja/sustainability/report/>

(*Available only in Japanese)

The Company also views climate change as one of the most important management issues facing the Group. The Company believes that the Task Force on Climate-Related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) provides an effective framework for implementing information disclosure related to climate change issues, etc. The Company declared its endorsement of the TCFD recommendations in May 2022. The information to be disclosed based on TCFD recommendations is shown on the Company's website. Please refer to page 42 of the Integrated Report 2025, "Climate Change Initiatives —Endorsement of TCFD Recommendations" (<https://corp.asahi.co.jp/en/ir/integrated-report/>).

In line with the TCFD recommendations, the Company will continue to disclose information on the impact of climate change on the ABC Group business activities and the measures taken to address the issues.

2. Investment in human capital

Please refer to "Human Capital (Human Capital Strategy Initiatives)" on pages 35-39 of the Integrated Report 2025 for details of the specific initiatives. (<https://corp.asahi.co.jp/en/ir/integrated-report/>)

3. Investment in intellectual property

The content of Asahi Television Broadcasting's programs, etc., which are the core of the Asahi Broadcasting Group and each Group company's content are intellectual property in which we are investing aggressively.

Principle 4.1 Roles and Responsibilities of the Board (1)

Supplementary Principle 4.1.1

Please refer to Article 16 (Roles and Authority of the Board of Directors) of the CG Policy.

Principle 4.9 Independence Standards and Qualification for Independent Outside Directors

Business Management Organization and Other Corporate Governance Systems regarding Decision-making, Execution of Business, and Oversight in Management" in this report.

Principle 4.11 Preconditions for Board and Kansayaku Board Effectiveness

Supplementary Principle 4.11.1

The Company nominates candidates for directors irrespective of their gender, career history or age based on the nominations policy prescribed by the Company. However, because the Company is a certified broadcasting holding company, it is unable to appoint directors who are foreign nationals. In addition, the Company appoints persons with the appropriate experience and capabilities and the necessary knowledge concerning finance, accounting and law as directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members, with a composition that ensures diversity. The Company will continue to consider initiatives to ensure diversity in aspects such as gender and age. The skills matrix, which outlines each director's knowledge, experience, and capabilities as formulated by the Company, is attached to this report.

Principle 4.11 Preconditions for Board and Kansayaku Board Effectiveness

Supplementary Principle 4.11.2

Please refer to Article 21 (Policy on Concurrent Positions) of the CG Policy.

Concurrent positions as officers of other listed companies by the Company's directors are as follows.

Takehiro Honjo

Chairman and Director of Osaka Gas Co., Ltd.

Principle 4.11 Preconditions for Board and Kansayaku Board Effectiveness

Supplementary Principle 4.11.3

Please refer to Article 25 (Evaluating the Effectiveness of the Board of Directors) of the CG Policy.

The Company conducted a questionnaire regarding the effectiveness of the Board of Directors during FY2025. Our self-assessment indicated that the composition of the Board, the content of the agenda and materials of Board meetings, and prior explanations were generally appropriate. Based on the results of interviews, we intend to further enhance the effectiveness of the Board of Directors meetings through initiatives such as reviewing the approach to pre-sharing agenda information and selecting agenda items that place greater emphasis on group-wide management.

Principle 4.14 Director and Kansayaku (Audit and Supervisory Board Member) Training

Supplementary Principle 4.14.2

Please refer to Article 26 (Training for Directors and Executive Officers) of the CG Policy.

Principle 5.1 Policy for Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders

Please refer to Article 6 (Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders and Investors) of the CG Policy.

<Improving Systems and Initiatives for Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders>

1. The Company formulated the IR and Information Disclosure Policy, which concerns the systems and initiatives to foster constructive dialogue with shareholders and investors, and posts this on the Company's website.

2. In principle, the Company holds biannual financial results briefings for analysts and institutional investors (May and November), attended by the President. In these briefings, we explain business performance and the progress of medium-term management plan, etc. We publish scripts of the briefings, including Q&A sessions, on the Company's website.

<https://corp.asahi.co.jp/en/ir/ir-library/presentation/>

3. The General Affairs Division is responsible for shareholder relations, while the Management Strategy Division handles investor relations (IR). Both divisions work in close coordination to perform their duties.

4. Opinions obtained through dialogue with shareholders and investors are reported to management via the Board of Directors, the Board of Executive Officers, and other meetings as appropriate.

5. Personnel involved in IR operations are knowledgeable about the appropriate management of insider information. In addition, the three-week period prior to the announcement of quarterly financial results is a quiet period during which we refrain from responding to and commenting on inquiries regarding financial results.

In addition to the preceding, the Company discloses quarter financial results in English simultaneously for the benefit of overseas institutional investors, posting graphs of business performance and financial highlights in English on the Company's website. We also post a script of the financial results briefing, including the Q&A session, on the Company's website at a later date. Additionally, for the Integrated Reports, we have translated the full versions into English and posted them on the Company's website.

<Status of Dialogues with Shareholders and Investors, etc.>

1. Results of Dialogues and Main Representatives

To expand opportunities for dialogue with shareholders and investors, increase occasions for contact with investors, and improve engagement, the Company conducts individual interviews and meetings with institutional investors and securities analysts as needed. It is our basic policy that directors or executive officers, etc., respond in meetings, considering the attributes and interests of the participants. Furthermore, we began interviewing overseas investors from FY2023 onwards and are committed to globalizing our dialogue.

2. Overview of Participating Shareholders and Investors

In Japan, our dialogue primarily focuses on analysts and institutional investors specializing in the media and entertainment sector. Overseas, we actively engage mainly with institutional investors and investment advisors across various investment styles, including value and growth.

<Main Dialogue Topics>

- Progress on the medium-term management plan and growth strategies

- Business environment and performance trends:

(Background of financial performance forecasts based on market environment analysis, and growth potential of key segments)

- Capital policies and shareholder returns:

(Policies for enhancing capital efficiency and shareholder return measures, including dividends and share buybacks)

- Asset efficiency and investment strategies:

(Policy for reducing cross-shareholdings and allocation of generated cash)

<Feedback and Incorporation of Feedback in Company Management>

Opinions and issues obtained through dialogue with shareholders and investors are fed back to management via the Board of Directors, the Board of Executive Officers, and other meetings and are utilized in measures to achieve sustainable enhancement of corporate value. Furthermore, in response to the growing focus on non-financial information over the past few years, we have enhanced the disclosures in our integrated report. In particular, we have prioritized expanding our ESG-related disclosures, including initiatives to address social issues through our business and the status of our investment in human capital.

[Action to Implement Management That Is Conscious of Cost of Capital and Stock Price]

Content of Disclosure	Disclosure of Initiatives (Update)
Availability of English Disclosure	Available
Date of Disclosure Update	April 10, 2026

Explanation of Actions Updated

To achieve sustainable enhancement of corporate value, the Group promotes management that is conscious of cost of capital and stock price.

Regarding the cost of capital, we figure out and monitor our cost of equity and weighted average cost of capital (WACC), aiming to achieve returns on capital that exceed the cost of capital. We conduct regular reviews of the profitability and growth potential of each business portfolio, and are evaluating the optimal allocation of management resources to enhance capital efficiency.

Regarding our stock price, we are focusing on enhancing the key drivers of stock price formation, including profitability, growth strategies, capital allocation, and enhanced information disclosure. In particular, we analyze indicators such as PBR (Price Book-value Ratio) and PER (Price-to-Earnings Ratio) to continuously assess the appropriateness of our valuation in the capital market.

In our Medium-Term Management Plan (2026-2028) (*1), we have disclosed our capital allocation policy. We prioritize the balance between growth investments and shareholder returns, maintaining a basic policy of stable, continuous dividends while targeting a medium- to long-term dividend payout ratio of 40%. In addition, we consider and execute agile measures, including share buybacks, aiming to achieve an optimal capital structure that enhances capital efficiency while maintaining financial soundness.

Furthermore, we prioritize constructive dialogue (engagement) with investors, striving to promote an understanding of our management strategies and financial position through financial results briefings, individual interviews, and other meetings. Through these efforts, we aim to enhance trust in the capital market and contribute to the formation of appropriate stock prices.

Going forward, we will continue to promote management that is conscious of cost of capital and stock price, striving to enhance corporate value over the medium- to long-term.

Matters Related to the Independence of Such Directors and/or Employees from Executive Directors

The Company has established an Audit and Supervisory Committee Office to assist the duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee, and has formulated the “Regulations for Employees Assisting the Duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee” to ensure the independence and efficacy of the office.

The Audit and Supervisory Committee Office consists of several individuals, including an office director who is independent from the business executives, with ample consideration given to experience, knowledge and capabilities in the appointment of employees.

Employees attached to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office follow the directives and orders of the Audit and Supervisory Committee. Transfers, performance reviews, and commendations or sanctions of employees attached to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office who are independent from the business executives occur with prior approval of the Audit and Supervisory Committee. The Company’s directors and employees are careful to avoid placing any undue constraints on the employees of the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office that might hinder their independence.

Cooperation among Audit and Supervisory Committee, Independent Auditor and Internal Audit Division

The Audit and Supervisory Committee and the independent auditor hold regular briefings concerning the Audit and Supervisory Committee’s audit plans and audit implementation and exchange opinions as necessary if there are other proposals.

The Company has established an Internal Audit Office under the direct authority of the Board of Directors, and while the Internal Audit Office is in charge of the internal audit, the Audit and Supervisory Committee works in collaboration with the Internal Audit Office such as by receiving reports from the Internal Audit Office concerning internal audit themes and the internal audit reports reported to the Board of Directors.

In addition, outside directors, including independent outside directors, and the General Manager of the Internal Audit Office attend the meeting where the external independent auditor presents the year-end audit report, etc. to the Audit and Supervisory Committee, thereby ensuring cooperation.

Policy on Determining Compensation Amounts and Calculation Methods	Established

Disclosure of Policy on Determining Compensation Amounts and Calculation Methods

Concerning the compensation, etc. of directors (excluding directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members), the Company has established compensation systems and levels commensurate with their respective responsibilities, considering the need to secure and retain outstanding human resources to respond to the mandate of shareholders and the need to provide incentives to improve business performance.

The compensation of executive directors comprises annual compensation and bonuses. In addition to basic compensation, position-based compensation and representative compensation, which are fixed compensation, annual compensation consists of short-term performance-linked compensation as performance-based compensation, each of which has its own calculation criteria. Basic compensation, position-based compensation and representative compensation consist of cash compensation. Other compensation consists of cash and stock-based compensation. Bonuses for executive directors are paid once annually in line with Group operating results for the previous fiscal year, subject to the condition that the Group records positive consolidated ordinary profit.

Basic compensation is set as monthly fixed compensation in light of quantitative elements such as corporate performance, compensation of other companies in related industries, rate of increase of employee salary and the number of years of continuous service, etc. and in reference to the amount of annual salary of employees in the highest position. Position-based compensation is monthly fixed compensation capped at 70% of the amount of basic compensation for each position. Representative compensation is monthly fixed compensation capped at 20% of the amount of basic compensation for Representative Directors. Performance-based compensation is set for each executive director and paid monthly as short-term performance-linked compensation, capped at 70% of the amount of basic compensation, and considers qualitative elements such as the business management capabilities, achievements and degree of contribution of each executive director as well as corporate performance. Group consolidated ordinary profit and consolidated net sales are selected as performance indices for performance-linked compensation, etc. To strengthen the linkage between the compensation and the medium- to long-term enhancement of corporate value, the Company has adopted restricted stock compensation as non-cash compensation for executive directors, which is paid as part of performance - based compensation annually in July.

The Board of Directors resolves the basic design of compensation for executive directors following consultation with the Nomination and Compensation Committee. The annual compensation, etc. for each executive director is determined by resolution of the Board of Directors' meeting held after the conclusion of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders each year, in line with the basic design, including the resolution to delegate the decision to the Representative Director and President who oversees the overall Company. The authority of the Representative Director and President subject to such resolution for delegation is for the amount of basic compensation for each director, and the evaluation and allocation of performance-based compensation and bonuses in light of the evaluation and performance of each director. For non-cash compensation (stock-based compensation), the Board of Directors resolves the number of shares to be delivered to each individual director considering reports from the Nomination and Compensation Committee.

Regarding compensation of outside directors, taking into account their independence from business execution, the Company has established compensation systems and levels that exclude elements pegged to fluctuations in business performance.

Compensation for directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members consists solely of annual compensation (fixed compensation). To attain fairness in the amount of compensation for each Audit and Supervisory Committee member and ensure that auditing functions effectively, the amount of compensation is determined through discussion of the Audit and Supervisory Committee within the maximum amount of compensation for directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members approved by resolution at the general meeting of shareholders.

The amount of compensation, etc. is determined by resolution of the Board of Directors within the maximum amount of compensation of directors approved by resolution at the general meeting of shareholders.

[Supporting System for Outside Directors]

Materials on issues of substantial importance for the Board of Directors are distributed to outside directors in advance, and executive directors, executive officers, etc., provide to outside directors explanations in advance, as necessary.

2. Matters on Functions of Business Execution, Auditing, Oversight, Nomination and Compensation Decisions (Overview of Current Corporate Governance System) Updated

The Company is a company with Audit and Supervisory Committee, and its business execution is conducted in accordance with resolutions of the Board of Directors or by the Board of Executive Officers, comprised of executive directors and executive officers, as well as other approval procedures. The Board of Directors in principle meets once a month and the Board of Executive Officers meets regularly every other week.

The Board of Directors comprises 13 directors, including three women. This includes eight (or more than one-half) who are outside directors with extensive knowledge and experience as corporate managers, an organization operator, and academic experts.

The Audit and Supervisory Committee comprises one standing Audit and Supervisory Committee member and three outside Audit and Supervisory Committee members, including two women. This includes three (or more than one-half) who are outside Audit and Supervisory Committee members with extensive knowledge and experience as corporate managers and academic experts. One of them has held various key positions at the Ministry of Finance and has been involved in corporate management as a director of multiple companies, thereby possessing considerable insight concerning finance and accounting. One standing Audit and Supervisory Committee member, who is well versed in overall business execution, and outside Audit and Supervisory Committee members collaborate in adequately fulfilling their supervisory function over executive directors and executive officers, such as by conducting effective audits based on audit standards prescribed by the Audit and Supervisory Committee. Initiatives to strengthen the function of the Audit and Supervisory Committee are implemented such as by appointing an office director who is independent from the business executives to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office who, together with several office members, assists the Audit and Supervisory Committee in its duties and operations.

The Company has appointed Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu LLC as the independent auditor, which mutually cooperates with the Audit and Supervisory Committee to undergo audits in accordance with the Companies Act and Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and to ensure the appropriateness of its accounts. The certified public accountants who were engaged in the audit were Takashi Okumura and Tetsuya Chihara. The number of continuous years on audit engagements is five (5) years or less for the lead engagement partner and seven (7) years or less for other engagement partners. Assistants for auditing services consist of 12 certified public accountants, 5 persons who have passed the accountant examination, and 11 other individuals.

Under the Company's corporate governance system, as noted above, the Audit and Supervisory Committee oversees the execution of duties by directors, and to further ensure the trust of all shareholders and investors, the Board of Directors is a "board of directors comprised of mainly outside directors."

The Company voluntarily holds the Nomination and Compensation Committee meetings multiple times a year. It receives advice from the Board of Directors and reports on issues such as the appointment and dismissal of the Representative Director and President, the status of planning and grooming of a successor, proposed candidates for directors and executive officers, and the basic design of compensation for directors and executive officers.

3. Reasons for Adoption of Current Corporate Governance System

As an institutional design for corporate governance, the Company has chosen an organizational structure of a company with Audit and Supervisory Committee. The Company has devised a structure whereby the role of the Board of Directors is to promote sustainable corporate growth and the increase of corporate value, while independent outside directors and the Audit and Supervisory Committee conduct monitoring and audits essential to highly effective management.

This type of system is believed to strengthen the supervisory function over executive directors and executive officers, maintain sound business management and transparency of decision-making, while also stimulating the Board of Directors through the incorporation of outside opinions.

IV. Matters Related to the Internal Control System

1. Basic Views on Internal Control System and the Progress of System Development

1. Basic views on internal control systems

The Company recognizes that the development of internal control systems and their effective operations are important management issues to enhance corporate governance. Therefore, while the supervision of business execution by directors and executive officers by the Board of Directors is a given, as a company with Audit and Supervisory Committee, the Audit and Supervisory Committee has built and works to strengthen its management monitoring system for conducting audits of business execution by directors and executive officers. In addition, the Company is strengthening the internal audit division while also aiming to develop risk management systems to support risk taking by senior management.

2. Progress of internal control system development

The Company has developed internal control systems based on the following policy.

(1) System for ensuring execution of duties by directors/executive officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries conforms to legal regulations and the articles of incorporation

1. Compliance

- The Group has formulated the “Asahi Broadcasting Group Compliance Charter” and “Asahi Broadcasting Group Compliance Code of Conduct” to conduct compliance management based on legal and regulatory compliance and social consciousness.
- The Company has formulated the “Asahi Broadcasting Group Compliance Regulations” and established the Legal and Compliance Division under the executive officer responsible for compliance, enacting a necessary framework for enabling directors/executive officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries to act in line with legal and regulatory compliance and in a socially ethical manner.
- The Company has established an internal reporting desk within the Legal and Compliance Division and outside the company, offering consultations to and receiving reports from the directors/executive officers, employees and other related individuals of the Company and its subsidiaries regarding possible compliance violations.
- The Company has formulated rules regarding compliance reporting desks based on Japan’s Whistleblower Protection Act, defining the investigation of and responses to reported information. We safeguard the confidentiality and prohibit the mistreatment of any individual who comes forward to report information.
- The Company’s Legal and Compliance Division periodically reports to the representative director and Board of Directors on the operational status of systems pertaining to internal reporting.
- The Company and its subsidiaries have formulated “Regulations for Rejection of Antisocial Forces,” prohibits the provision of any profit or accommodation to antisocial forces, and is steadfastly committed to resisting any pressure from such forces.

2. Internal audits

- The Company has established an Internal Audit Office under the direct authority of the Board of Directors.
- The Company has formulated “Internal Audit Regulations” defining the basic parameters regarding audits, including audit criteria and standards; audits examine the operational status of business execution, compliance systems, risk management and internal control systems of the Company and its subsidiaries, and are conducted to confirm that overall operations are being conducted appropriately in light of laws, regulations and the articles of incorporation.
- The Company’s Internal Audit Office confirms that its code of conduct, as an expression of the Company’s corporate culture and climate, is respected in letter and spirit, and whether it is being implemented.
- The Company’s Internal Audit Office prepares internal audit reports, which reports to the Board of Directors as well as Audit and Supervisory Committee. The Board of Directors instructs improvements based on the internal audit reports. The results of the improvement are verified by the Internal Audit Office, and reported to the Board of Directors and Audit and Supervisory Committee.
- The Company’s Internal Audit Office, as appropriate, reports to and coordinates with the Audit and Supervisory Committee on plans, outcomes and other areas regarding internal audits.

(2) System for preservation and management of information pertaining to execution of duties by directors

- The Company has formulated “Document Management Regulations,” and conducts the appropriate preservation and management of documents pertaining to business execution by directors, including the minutes of the Board of Directors.

(3) Regulations regarding management of risk of loss by the Company and its subsidiaries and other systems

- The Company’s Legal and Compliance Division has formulated “Risk Management Manual” and “Risk Management Sheet” for the Company and its subsidiaries, as part of appropriate risk management efforts. The Legal and Compliance Division has also formulated a “Crisis Management Flow Chart” to respond appropriately when risks emerge.
- To respond to risks related to television programming, broadcasting accidents and other risks, the Group has established under Asahi Television Broadcasting Corporation’s Board of Executive Directors a Broadcasting Problems Countermeasures Committee, Broadcasting Programs Examination Committee and Broadcasting Accidents Countermeasures Committee along with a Group Risk Management Countermeasures Committee at the Company to address risks facing the Group as a whole.

- The Group established the Asahi Broadcasting Group AI Governance Rules based on the Asahi Broadcasting Group Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy. Our intent is to maximize the safe use of AI to enhance corporate value while minimizing risks associated with the use of AI.
- The Group has formulated a “Business Continuity Plan” and “Disaster Readiness Manual,” and strives to maintain broadcasting functions during times of disaster.
- The Company has established the Legal Department and the Compliance Department under the Legal and Compliance Division, devising a system that enables confirmation of legal risks accompanying business execution, while receiving advice from attorneys.

(4) System to ensure efficient execution of duties by directors and others of the Company and its subsidiaries

- The executive directors/executive officers of the Company and its subsidiaries realize appropriate and efficient business execution in accordance with the scopes of authority determined by their respective Boards of Directors.
- The Company and its subsidiaries have formulated a medium-term management plan encompassing the entire Group; directors/executive officers of the Company and its subsidiaries execute their duties to achieve plan objectives.
- The Company, through the Board of Executive Officers (consisting of officers) and through various committees, shares information pertaining to the Company and its subsidiaries and collaborates, and conducts appropriate and fast decision-making.

(5) System regarding reporting to the Company of matters related to execution of duties by directors and others at its subsidiaries

- The Company has formulated “Asahi Broadcasting Group Companies Management and Administration Regulations” and defined rules concerning the sharing and reporting of information and business operations within the Group; in parallel, under “Group Companies Management and Administration Regulations” formulated by subsidiaries, subsidiaries are obligated to report operating results, financial position and other important information to the Company.
- The Company holds regular briefings with Group companies, and strives to share important information regarding management.

(6) Matters regarding employees assisting the duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee

- The Company has established an Audit and Supervisory Committee Office to assist the duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee, and has formulated the “Regulations for Employees Assisting the Duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee” to ensure the independence and efficacy of the office.
- The Audit and Supervisory Committee Office consists of several individuals, including an office director who is independent from the business executives, with ample consideration given to experience, knowledge and capabilities in the selection of employees.

- Employees attached to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office follow the directives and orders of the Audit and Supervisory Committee.
- Transfers, performance reviews, and commendations or sanctions of employees attached to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office who are independent from the business executives occur with prior approval of the Audit and Supervisory Committee.
- The Company's executive managing directors/executive officers and employees are careful to avoid placing any undue constraints on the employees of the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office that might hinder their independence.

(7) System for reporting to the Audit and Supervisory Committee

- The general manager of the Company's Legal and Compliance Division reports immediately to the Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee upon receipt of reports of matters that could materially impact the operations or financial position of the Company and its subsidiaries, or reports of matters that could constitute compliance violations.
- When requested by the Audit and Supervisory Committee to provide reports on matters pertaining business execution, the directors/executive officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries respond promptly to fulfill this reporting request.
- The Company's Internal Audit Office and the Audit and Supervisory Board members of subsidiaries meet periodically, and as needed, with the Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee to report on the status of internal audits, compliance, risk management and other relevant areas of the Company and its subsidiaries.
- The Company has formulated "Regulations Regarding Reporting to the Audit and Supervisory Committee"; the Company strictly prohibits the taking of any negative actions against directors/executive officers or employees of the Company and its subsidiaries who report to the Audit and Supervisory Committee as a consequence of their decision to report, and disseminates awareness of this policy throughout the Group.

(8) Other systems for ensuring effective performance of audits by the Audit and Supervisory Committee

- The Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee members attend meetings of the Company's Board of Directors, meetings of the Company's Board of Executive Officers, and other important meetings, and are able to access minutes, circulars for approval and other documents related to business execution from important meetings.
- Each year, the Company develops a set budget to cover expenses that arise from the execution of duties by the Audit and Supervisory Committee.
- The Company bears the cost of covering temporary expenses that arise in the performance of audits by the Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee, including for the hiring of attorneys, certified public accountants and other external advisors, except in cases deemed unnecessary for the execution of the duties of the Audit and Supervisory Committee.

2. Basic Views on Eliminating Anti-Social Forces and Status of Its Development

The Company prescribes in its Compliance Charter and Compliance Code of Conduct that “it is steadfastly committed to resisting any pressure from antisocial groups or individuals and will never be associated with any such groups or individuals” and has also established the Regulations for Rejection of Antisocial Forces to ensure that officers and employees are thoroughly aware that they must not provide any profit or accommodation to antisocial forces.

In addition, in the event of undue demands, such matters shall be dealt with by the Group Risk Management Countermeasures Committee that is established under the Board of Executive Officers. The Company has joined the Osaka Prefecture Corporate Defense Council (hereinafter “Corporate Defense Council”). The person in charge of the General Affairs Department participates in training sessions, etc. convened by the Corporate Defense Council, and exchanges information as necessary.
